

Fire marshal probes blaze

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Inspectors from the Michigan State Fire Marshal's office still are sifting the debris to determine the cause of a $500,000 fire which destroyed a Salvation Army warehouse in Romulus.

Romulus Fire Chief George Wilheid said that the warehouse, used to store upholstery material, was reported ablaze at 5 a.m. Monday.

Fire fighters from Romulus' volunteer department battled the fire for 7½-hours Monday, but were unable to save the building.

"It's hard to tell where the fire started since the building was so well destroyed," Wilheid said. "But it seems as though the worst part was in the center, where burlap and paper were stacked for work."

Four pumping engines and a foam truck for the department had to be used to battle the blaze, since the nearest fire hydrant to the scene was nearly a mile away on Goddard Road.

"We had to haul the water in to the end of Vining Road near the (Norfolk and Western) railroad tracks," Wilheid said. "There was no hydrant we could hook up to."

No injuries were involved in the fire, since the warehouse was used more as an auxiliary storage area for the Salvation Army operation in Romulus.

The Salvation Army workers moved most operations to a newer building facing Goddard Road several years ago.

Officials of the charitable organization said it would cost between $480,000 and $500,000 to replace the building.

No value was placed on the material housed in the facility.

Wilheid said he expects a report back from the state at the end of the week on the cause of the fire.

He would not speculate whether it was a case of arson.

Ed board expects 12 job applicants

The Romulus Board of Education expects to have a list of as many as 12 applicants for the soon to be vacant superintendent of education post.

Board President Carl W. Morris said a high powered committee of three education specialists from three area universities will help narrow down a field of expected candidates to 10 or 12 names for the board's perusal by July 8.

Representatives from Eastern Michigan University (EMU), the University of Michigan and Wayne State University will screen candidates initially for the Board of Education. The committee, made up of specialists from the three universities' schools of education, will be chaired by Richard Nesbit of EMU.

"I think we'll get some pretty good applicants to the post," Morris said of the search for a superintendent.

The board will be attempting to replace Supt. Robert McConeghy, who will be leaving Friday to take a post with the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

"Of course, it will be difficult to replace Mr. McConeghy," Morris said. "But then, the job facing a new superintendent will be easier than the one handed Mr. McConeghy when he was hired."

Morris is the only member of the Romulus Board of Education who was around when McConeghy was hired from within the district 16 years ago.

At that time, the district was one of the three lowest in Wayne County in state equalized value.

Today the district is one of the highest in the state for state equalized value per pupil, and the trend is destined to improve with the addition of a nearly $400 million General Motors Corp. assembly-storage complex during the next eight years.

During his tenure, McConeghy presided over a growth program in education and facilities which is designed to handle virtually every student anticipated to enter the district for years to come.

"Mr. McConeghy was a good man for the district," Morris said. "We're in good shape."

The board president added that the board is seeking a person who can handle many unique aspects of Romulus both on a community and an educational level.

"We'll be seeking a person who can get along with the community and who can stay on top of the system and maintain the high grade of education offered in Romulus," Morris said. "We're very fortunate to have a fine program and want to maintain it."

Councilman urges hearing attendance

Romulus Councilman James Stewart is urging area residents to attend a public hearing to discuss the possible rezoning of the city's only 18-hole golf course for use as a shopping center.

Stewart, in a press release, asked: "Are you willing to see the only 18-hole golf course in the City of Romulus destroyed under the blade of bulldozers in the names of progress?"

The public hearing has been set for 7 p.m. Monday in Romulus City Hall to discuss the rezoning of 50 acres of the 106-acre Shady Hollow Golf Course for use as a regional shopping center.

Plans for the use of the acreage at the corner of Wick and Wayne roads call for construction of a shopping center on 20 acres and senior citizen housing on 10 acres of the land.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt has indicated he would support the rezoning providing the developers of the center — Wickway Inc. — post a performance bond to insure they will begin construction on the project within six months of the rezoning approval.

According to Troutt, the remaining acreage would be used for a 9-hole golf course.

But Stewart said: "There is plenty of vacant land in the city that could be developed before tearing up a golf course. The entire City of Romulus is only 28 percent developed, so that leaves 72 percent of choice vacant land that could be used first."

"In the past 24 months, the City of Romulus has spent more than a half million dollars to promote recreation in the city and now we are being asked to destroy private owned recreation that is a great asset to the city's program."

"Does this make sense?"

The councilman continued by saying that he is not a golfer but is taking a position against the rezoning as a councilman. He added that he is doing "what I feel is in the best interest of the city and its citizens."

Moment of joy

Boy Scouts of Troop 739 in Romulus were on hand last week to raise "Old Glory" over the monument to World War I dead by the Manufacturer's National Bank of Detroit in downtown Romulus. However, the flag, which flew over the nation's Capitol before being donated to the city by the Sunshine Girls, was stolen hours after it was raised. Participating in the ceremonies prior to the theft are Boy Scouts Paul Helmuth, Roy Jarvis and Tim Traylor. Assistant Scoutmaster Ron Jarvis is supervising. Officials of the Manufacturer's Bank, which maintain the pole at Shook and Goddard Road, have reported the theft of the flag to the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. County commissioners willing for pay cut

Of The Roman Staff

Both of the area's Wayne County commissioners will "do their part" to help save the county from an anticipated $12 million deficit, even if it means cutting their own salaries.

Both Commissioners Edgar L. Harris (D-26th District) who represents Romulus, Huron

Township and Taylor and Royce Smith (D-27th District) who represents Belleville, Van Buren Township and Sumpter Township said they are willing to vote for a personal 10 percent cut in pay suggested by a fellow commissioner to overcome the projected deficit.

Commissioner Tom F. Taylor (D-20th District) has suggested that the 27-member Board of Commissioners cut their salary by 10 percent and reduce the salary of other elected and appointed county officials by the same margin before asking union personnel to forgo raises to help overcome a deficit.

The suggestion coupled with the suggestion to cap the cost of living and forgo raises from a recently negotiated contract with the American Federation of State,

County and Municipal Employees are part of a 5-point program Taylor proposed to get the full-board moving on what he described as a "serious financial difficulty" which the full board has shown an "apparent hesitancy" to cope with.

Other points in the plan include banning spending for new programs unless funds come from the budgets of previously-approved programs, banning travel out of state at county expense and opening Wayne County General Hospital to general practitioners instead of leaving the institution open exclusively for doctors on the University of Michigan Medical School staff.

"The commissioners have been talking since Feb. 1 about the problem but have done little to cope with it," Smith said. "I agree with Commissioner Taylor that action should be taken now before this reaches a crisis."

Harris added: "This county is in deep financial trouble and the only way to up it is for everyone to do their own part, including the members of the county commission."

And in an effort to help "pull out" the county, both local commissioners joined forces with Taylor in an unsuccessful effort to overturn "salary adjustments" for non-union personnel.

"It amounted to a move last week in which salaries for personnel making between $25,000 and $36,000 a year were adjusted upwards from $500 to $2,000 per year," Smith said. "That alone cost the county $15,700, but the full board approved it anyway."

But, according to Smith, the major problem in meeting the county's financial difficulties is the inability of departments within the county to cut down their own budgets voluntarily.

At the beginning of the fiscal year, when there was the appearance of problems, the commissioners assigned various departments within the county sums of money they should save over the Dec. 1, 1974 to Nov. 30, 1975 fiscal year.

Several major departments are behind the pace.

"Now is the time the commissioners have either got to bit the bullet or jump in the river," Smith said.

Taylor calls for 'good faith' sign to help alleviate deficit in county

The commissioner who wants the other members of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to cut their salaries by as much as 10 percent is hoping that the move will be a "sign of good faith" to union personnel who will be asked to give up raises negotiated in a recent contract.

Commissioner Tom F. Taylor (D-20th District) who represents Westland and Garden City, said he in good conscience would not take the "traditional route" of asking employees to ignore raises to help the county out of financial difficulties unless he took a "responsible course of action" by cutting his own salary first.

Taylor added that his plan to cut the commissioners' pay from $14,000 to $12,600 per year and to cut the pay of other elected and administrative officials by 10 percent will reduce by as much as $1.8 million an anticipated $12 million deficit.

Other cost saving measures he proposes are increasing the patient population at Wayne County General Hospital (WCGH) to cut a $1.8 million monthly deficit at the facility; banning all but essential travel out of the state at county expense; turning down new programs requiring county general fund revenues unless other program costs are cut, and requesting union participation in cost saving measures.

In addition, he recommends the county take the "traditional course" of a hiring freeze to save $6 million of the $12 million projected deficit.

Taylor proposes that the pay cut and travel ban proposals be implemented before union personnel are asked to forgo raises and cost of living increases recently won by Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

"It's the only fair faith thing to do," the commissioner said.

Taylor indicated he made the proposal to "dramatize the situation" and to "get the board off dead center" on cutting costs after chairing two special meetings to handle cost cutting plans. All that was accomplished was the cutting of WCGH's lump sum budget by $500,000 in a meeting which had to be canceled because there wasn't a 14-commissioner quorum available.

Flag stolen in Romulus

A Romulus bank official believes a thief is heading toward a "federal rap" for stealing a flag from a pole in downtown Romulus.

Leo Kolata, treasurer of the Romulus Bicentennial Committee and manager of the Manufacturer's Bank branch in downtown Romulus, believes the thief or prankster is heading for trouble for stealing a flag from the World War I monument adjacent to the bank in Romulus.

"The pole was turned over to the bank, and the flag was donated to the bank," Kolata said. "Whoever took it is therefore stealing from the bank — something which is a federal offense."

However, Kolata did not turn the theft over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which normally investigates bank robberies, but to the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

"It really makes me mad, since the flag was donated to the city to fly on the monument as part of our Bicentennial observance," Kolata said. "Whoever took it had to be caloused."

Kolata added that the flag had "a kind of sentimental value" because it had flown over the nation's Capitol.

"It's valuable to us," Kolata said. "That's why we want it back."

If the flag is turned in voluntarily, the Bicentennial treasurer said that no questions will be asked about how it was found. Even if the flag is returned, the Bicentennial Committee and the bank have a minor expense to care for because of the theft.

Someone will have to go to the top of the flag pole to restring the flag rope.

Whoever took the flag cut the rope before removing it.

"We had the Fire Department out to handle it before, and I guess we'll have to call them for help again," he said.

The bank has invested money in the flag pole to insure that Romulus residents have a patriotic display at their World War I monument.

A $300 spotlight had been purchased by the bank to insure that the flag could fly, and be seen throughout the night in the downtown area.

"That's why it was stolen," the bank manager said. "My only hope is that residents who may be near the flag pole in the future would keep an eye on it, and inform the sheriff if they see some suspicious activities."

Area meetings

The Romulus Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. Monday in the City Council chamber of the Romulus City Hall, 11111 S. Wayne Road, Romulus. A regular Planning Commission meeting will follow the public hearing.

Merchants seek help

BELLEVILLE—A group of businessmen oppose any plans to assess them for maintenance of a public parking lot used for parking at their businesses. The 47 businessmen petitioned the Belleville City Council to use public funds for the lots, despite protests from other businessmen who maintain their own lots.

District seeks more

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP—The superintendent of the Van Buren Public School District will appeal to the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board for a good share of the 15-mill county, school, township tax levy charged in the district. Dale E. Kaultz said he is hoping for more than the 7.65 mill levy given the district last year, but that he expects to receive only that amount.

Troutt to ask for tax probe

The Wayne County prosecutor will be asked to investigate the circumstances surrounding a clerical error which resulted in a Romulus city councilman's commercial building being left off of city tax rolls for at least two years.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt said he will call the prosecutor to investigate the circumstances surrounding the oversight which allowed Councilman James C. Stewart to escape paying nearly $1,000 in taxes on his building located on Harrison Road near Ecorse Road.

Troutt said he will follow the investigation course after the Romulus City Council concurred in a recommendation by City Attorney William Munger that the mayor pursue an investigation.

Troutt said he had set a meeting with the Wayne County prosecutor's office for this week to review the city's file on the Stewart tax situation.

Romulus Mayor Pro Tem Beverly McAnally said that the council's action should not be construed as an accusation.

"The council's action was designed to clear the air surrounding this incident," Mrs. McAnally said. "While there are no formal charges against Mr. Stewart, there are those citizens who suspect nothing but wrong doing in this incident."

"This is the chance for Mr. Stewart to have his name cleared in the minds of those citizens."

The council action was taken unanimously with Stewart abstaining on the vote. However, the councilman said he welcomed the investigation, asserting that he hadn't done anything wrong in the incident.

Present city tax records show Stewart paying taxes on a building assessed at $3,520 on a value of $15,417.60 with a state equalization factor of 2.19.

Troutt said that he has instructed Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz to process a tax bill on the property for back taxes on the building from 1973 and last year.

Stewart had indicated in the past that he would pay his back taxes if billed.

Club seeks walkers for fun, good health

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

There are some people who are willing to walk a mile for a cigarette. But some area residents are hoping to find people who are willing to walk several miles for their health.

More than 18 families from throughout Van Buren Township have gathered together in the no-cost Van Buren Hiking Club to promote exploration of Michigan's resources by foot and good health through exercise at the same time.

The club is not only open to Van Buren residents but also those from other communities.

"It's a combination social, exercise, exploration club for those persons who participate," said Barb Bischoff, the group's informal leader. "Everyone who participates does so for different reasons for the end result generally is a good time and good health besides."

The club, formed in March, is hoping to provide experience for all persons skilled at hiking as well as experiences for persons who may not know of the sport, but would like to try it.

"Most of us are pretty inexperienced right now," Miss Bischoff said. "But we're learning and as we get more acquainted with hiking, and more in shape, we're planning bigger and longer hikes, including possible weekend and week-long trips."

The next trek is scheduled for 1 p.m. Sunday at the Van Buren Township Hall. Participants in the hike will go on a "mystery tour" scheduled to end around 5 or 6 p.m.

The final week of May is scheduled for 10 a.m. May 31 at Kensington Metropark for a tour of the park's hiking trail. Walkers will gather at 10 a.m. at the Township Hall to drive to the park.

"This seems like an excellent opportunity for family recreation, since there is no cost to join the club, and since the need for equipment for most hikes is minimal," Miss Bischoff said. "The only equipment that's needed is a pair of comfortable walking shoes and dress for the season."

"As the trips get longer, there may be a need for inexpensive equipment, such as a back pack, but for now, the cost is nothing."

Persons not wishing to take part in longer trips need not shy away, she added.

Persons interested in participating in the club can either contact Van Buren Township Recreation Director Jeff Clark at 699-2001 or Miss Bischoff at 697-0247.

Meetings are held Thursdays in the Van Buren Township Hall. The next formal meeting of the club is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. June 5.

Health Day for seniors set at Methodist Church

Romulus-area senior citizens are invited to a "Senior Citizen Health Day" scheduled for May 20.

The Family and Neighborhood Services organization is sponsoring the 9 a.m. to noon Health Day at the United Community Methodist Church, 11190 Olive St., Romulus. A mobile health unit will be on hand to provide tests including a blood pressure check, urinalysis, hemoglobin tests, gynecological examinations, and pap smears at no cost.

Transportation to the Health Day will be provided if the senior citizens make arrangements in advance, and free coffee and donuts will be served during the tests.

In addition, those who attend are invited to participate in the daily senior citizen lunch program at the church.

Information on the program, and information on arranging rides can be obtained by calling Carol Goss at the Family and Neighborhood Services Headquarters. The telephone number is 941-9590.

Localite gains mom honor

A Romulus woman has received an honor which she believes all mothers in the community received from their children.

However, Ethel LaMar, a 32-year resident of Romulus, can frame hers, and intends to mount it on the family's living room wall at 6315 Chamberlain St.

Mrs. LaMar, the mother of four children, received a certificate acknowledging her as "Mother of the Year" from her son living in Phoenix, Ariz., in time for last weekend's observance of Mother's Day.

The document proclaims Mrs. LaMar "Mother of the Year" for her "outstanding patience, understanding and love for her family during times of stress, pain and anxiety and heart-break."

It continues: "She has accepted all things that have come before her and has made the best of each situation thinking not of herself but of her family."

"Even on occasions of being overlooked or taken for granted, she still continues to serve, love, teach, care for, provide and give of herself."

Mrs. LaMar and her husband, Joseph, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last year in Romulus.

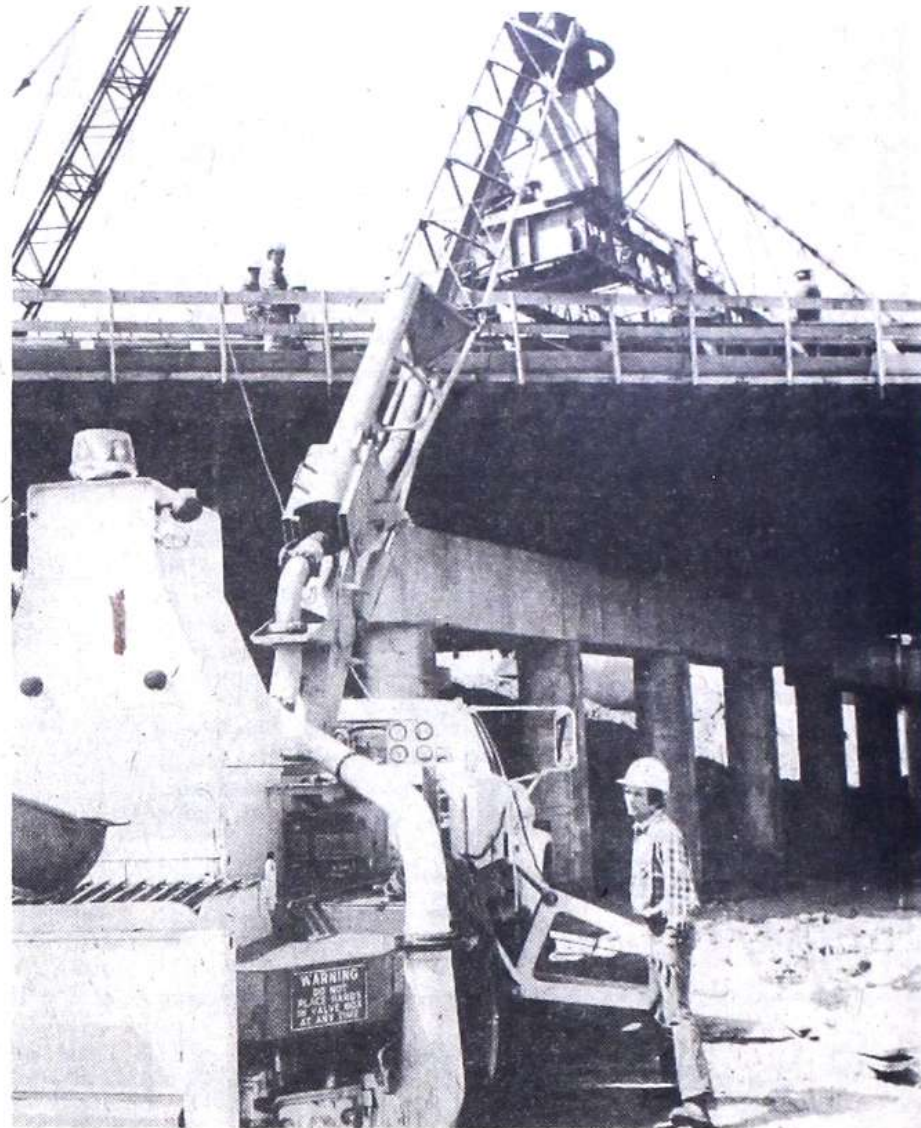

They are among the pioneers of the community, and participate in a number of community activities including the Romulus Senior Citizen Club.

Their children include Joseph Jr., 47; Juanita, 46; Julius, 43 and Lois, 42.

Julius was unable to attend the family's Sunday celebration of Mother's Day however the other brothers and sister gathered with Deri Mitchell, a foster child of the LaMars, to thank Mrs. LaMar for the care she has given them.

Included in Mrs. LaMar's list of pride are 27 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

HIGH LEVEL ROADWORK — Workmen were busy pouring concrete on the roadway of the I-275 freeway in Romulus during the past week. Here, the men utilize a high-powered pump which is used to force cement to the roadway of a bridge going over Eureka Road in the community. Though concrete is on the roadway of the bridge, the expressway is nearly a year away from opening with several underpasses and overpasses along its route still under construction and a massive interchange at I-94 in Van Buren Township barely started. — The Romulus Roman photo.

REGULATION AND TRUCKING

Some people feel the regulated transportation system of the United States should not be regulated. They argue, the industry which approves of regulation, must be lining their pockets because of it. And for these reasons, they argue the Interstate Commerce Commission should be abolished.

We have regulation for one prime reason...to insure transportation service and standardized rates for communities located away from major shipping centers such as Detroit. Here, there is no cutthroat competition or biased rates. A shipper in Alpena can send his freight for the same rate as a shipper of similar freight in Detroit.

Shippers and merchants in places like Muskegon, Jackson, Petoskey and Midland can count on regular service and standard rates that do not change daily...or hourly because of ICC regulation.

The way we see it, without regulation, Michigan communities would have little to depend upon, except extremely poor service and a very unfair rate system.

A regulated transportation system is not the best of all possible worlds. But it is far better than no transportation system at all. Or worse, a government-run system.

As we see it

Things get done?

One state legislator's idea on how the state can save a few bucks is a perfect example of why it is difficult to cut the state budget.

The legislator has suggested that the state could save $150,000 a year by discontinuing the long-time practice of printing road maps every year. Why does the state need to produce a map every year when you can drive into any gas station and get one free?

The idea makes sense, especially during this time of tight money with the state talking about reducing such essential human services as those provided by the state Departments of Mental Health and Social Services.

But make a serious move to get the state Department of Highways and Transportation to stop printing the maps and you will hear so much moaning and groaning from the Capitol that you will forget that you ever mentioned it.

For many lawmakers, the state financed maps are a staple item in their bag of tricks to stay in office. Many legislators send letters to their constituents asking them if they would like a free road map which they paid for, anyway, through the state gas tax.

Some legislators send out thousand of the maps, using the state's postage meter and state envelopes and stationery.

It would be a safe bet to say that a majority in the Legislature don't share the legislator's idea. They would be deprived of an annual gimmick to get favorable attention from the voters. There are other ideas, which could be implemented by the Legislature and which could save the state a sizable sum of money.

For example, most state agencies publish an annual report. Recently, it has become a contest to see which department can publish the most slick volume which costs thousands of taxpayer dollars.

These publications are filled with photos and carry glowing accounts about how that particular department is working to better the lot of mankind.

The annual reports, very seldom get into the hard realities it faces in carrying out its mission for the people of the state.

But if the Legislature won't stop printing road maps, then it can't be expected to order the state agencies to stop spending thousands on annual reports which only gather dust on legislator's bookshelves.

That's the way it is with most of the suggestions to cut the state budget. And that is why state income tax had to be raised. The state just doesn't have enough money for essentials!

As they see it

Feds in way

To the editor: I read the article in the paper "System will work." With the problems of inflation, unemployment, you very clearly can see these things happening around you. It's difficult to have confidence in the future. I always say "tell it like it is."

But the system would work if the federal government would get out of business and out of people's lives.

With openers the Congress should abolish the unconstitutional bureaucratic agencies such as the EPA and OSHA. These regulatory agencies have harmed our economy.

Raw political power decides vote

Every now and then a vote comes along in the Legislature in which all the philosophical arguments and all the little nuances go out the window.

The only thing left is raw political power — who's got the most votes.

Such moments come rarely. Usually, issues are settled around here by compromises reached short of an all-out confrontation. The final vote represents a consensus of the major parties rather than an all-or-nothing, down-to-the-wire fight.

But once in a while those fights do occur, usually when both sides feel they have given all they can afford to. Such a moment came in the Michigan Senate when it considered the bill to raise unemployment compensation benefits by $30 a week.

The negotiations which preceded the vote involved the two basic forces — organized labor in the form of representatives of both the UAW and the AFL-CIO and the business community in the form of representatives of the governor's office. Both sides had grave concerns — labor worrying about the more than 500,000 unemployed workers in the state and the governor worrying about the effect a sharp rise in benefits would have on both the health of existing companies and the state's ability to attract new business to provide new jobs.

Finally, both had gone as far as they felt they could go and no agreement was reached. It was time to see who had the votes.

There was no question about whether the bill would pass. The Senate has 24 Democrats and only 14 Republicans, and no Democrats would dare vote against a bread and butter labor bill.

The question was whether the bill would be given immediate effect. Without immediate effect, the bill would go into effect at the end of March, 1976. That would mean no additional money for the unemployed for almost a year.

To get immediate effect in the Senate requires 26 votes — two more than the Democrats could muster. The question then was whether the governor could hold all 14 Republicans in line.

There were two big question marks — Sen. Carl Pursell of Plymouth and Sen. Harry De Maso of Battle Creek.

Pursell is from a district normally considered Democratic, but he has received strong labor support, including endorsement by the State AFL-CIO, in the past.

De Maso is a maverick who is refusing to participate in Republican caucuses in the Senate.

The question was whether Pursell would be willing to suffer the wrath of labor and whether De Maso would be willing to stick with the party.

About an hour before the vote Gov. Milliken played his trump card. For the first time in 6½ years as governor he issued a statement promising to veto a bill before it was passed.

There was no doubt that he would veto the unemployment bill as it was written because it would cripple the state's economic climate, he said. It cost about $100 million a year too much.

He issued the statement for two reasons. One to make sure the Republican senators knew he wouldn't cut their legs off by signing a bill they had fought against. And two to put the feet of the 14 GOP senators to the fire by making it clear they were either voting with or against him.

The vote on the bill came in the Senate with 25 voting for it. Pursell had joined the Democrats to vote for the bill.

Then the question was whether to give the bill immediate effect. Pursell rose to speak and no one knew what he would say. He asked for a delay in the vote for a couple of days to see if some compromise could be worked out at the last minute. He didn't see the need to give the bill immediate effect right that day.

In the Senate balcony State Labor Director Keith Molin, the governor's watchdog on the bill, breathed a little easier. Pursell was saying he'd vote no on immediate effect, at least for now.

Then De Maso rose to say he saw no need for a hurry, either. That was it. Both question marks had declared their intention.

Democratic leader William Fit-gerald of Detroit stalked around the chamber to make sure a vote was taken. He wanted everybody on the record. As the roll was being called Harold Julian, the UAW's chief lobbyist was in a phone booth in the lobby calling Pursell at his desk to make a last plea for a change. Pursell said no.

The vote was 24-13 on a straight party line count — two short of the number needed for immediate effect. There were angry words after the vote from the labor workers who had come so close to winning.

They had gone as far as they could go, they said. If the governor wanted to be that insensitive to the workers of the state, it was up to him.

But everyone knew there would be more negotiations soon. The governor had shown he had enough votes to block the union demands.

It was time for some compromising.

Who said we're ecology minded?

ECOLOGY MINDED?

Environmental laws will be reviewed

Panax Lansing Bureau

State environmental laws which have given Michigan the reputation of being ecology minded will come under review of the House Conservation Committee starting later this month.

The committee, headed by State Rep. Thomas J. Anderson (D-Southgate), will concentrate on a series of controversial laws which were passed in recent years to protect Michigan's natural features — such as the Great Lakes shoreline and the inland lakes.

The laws were passed in the late sixties and the early seventies during a time when environmental concerns were a top item on the legislative calendar.

Since that time, the laws have been the source of considerable controversy, with business charging that they are too strict and with environmentalists charging that they are too weak.

And, as the Legislature passed these laws which gave Michigan some of the strongest controls over the environment held by any state in the nation, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has encountered difficulty in getting enough money to administer them effectively.

It has reached a point where the DNR director, Dr. Howard Tanner, has told the Legislature not to pass any more environmental laws until the department is given enough money to implement them.

An aide to the House Conservation Committee said that the environmental law review would follow a format where committee members first review the language of the law, then call the DNR staff members responsible for administering it and finally ask for testimony from others who have been affected by it.

Using information gathered from the review, the conservation committee will develop what it feels are the necessary proposals to make the laws work more effectively.

The review will include the following environmental control laws passed by the Legislature during the early seventies:

The Natural River Act — it allows the designation of a river as a natural river area to preserve and enhance its values for historic, ecological, conservation and recreational purposes. Such designation allows the state to control development along river.

Shorelands Protection Act — it provides for the protection of Great Lakes shorelands from erosion or misuse by requiring engineering and environmental studies and a comprehensive overall plan for use and protection of the shorelands. This law also permits state regulation of development along specified stretches of shoreland.

Inland Lakes and Streams Act — it requires a permit approval for any dredging or filling of the bottomlands, change of natural water flow, creating or altering of artificial waterways and similar activities.

Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Act — it provides for the development of a unified erosion and sedimentation program and an effective enforcement procedure. This law affects anybody who alters the soil, including farmers and builders.

The House Conservation Committee aide emphasized that the committee review should not be taken as criticism of the DNR, but as an attempt to examine the effectiveness and problems with laws passed by the Legislature.

"The committee doesn't want to open it up to a rock-throwing contest," the conservation aide said. "But we want an honest evaluation of how these laws are working."

Meanwhile, the Senate Conservation Committee has been less active than its House counterpart. Chaired by State Sen. Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood), the committee has held only one meeting since January, with no definite plans to hold another in the near future.

Hospital greets spring with special programs

Special things are in store for Western Wayne County residents who visit Wayne County General Hospital in Westland during the month of May.

On May 17, between 1 and 4 p.m. a free health clinic will be held in the hospital's Outpatient Department. The clinic located on Merriman Road, one block north of Michigan Avenue, will be open to all citizens wishing the services.

The clinic will be testing blood pressure as part of its observance of National Hypertension month. High Blood Pressure often is referred to as "the silent killer" with many individuals being unaware they are victims of this condition. Early diagnosis and treatment can prevent many of the serious side effects of this condition.

Very important to children — 1 through 5 years of age — who may have been exposed unknowingly to lead-based paint is the lead poisoning screening. Because young children tend to indiscriminately chew on painted objects, the possibility of lead poisoning exists, especially in houses built before 1950.

It also is vital to the health of the community and all parents are urged to bring their children's immunizations up to date.

Wayne County General Hospital and Health Department urges all residents to take advantage of the free clinic to insure a healthy community.

A photo display depicting various hospital departments will be in the lobby of the hospital during next week and from 4 to 6 p.m.

CIA timely subject of two new novels

The United States Government, as in years past, in the present and in years to come, has been, is and will be "the" topic of conversation, be one peasant or philosopher. And particularly in these post-Watergate days when suspicious are so rampant, anything with the tag "CIA" particularly draws one's attention.

Since the CIA is the core of David Chacko's new novel and another written by James Grady, it seems a fitting lead into what's new at the Romulus Public Library this week.

Another "in" pastime (hobby or avocation) seems to be the study and interest in witchcraft. Two authors have chosen that line for their latest fiction works and another has tackled a non-fiction angle by delving into the history of not only witchcraft but voodoo as well.

Honeymoon in Florida follows spring vows

Following a week's honeymoon in Florida, the newly wed Floyd Saunders took up residence in Roseville, Minn. close to the bridegroom's employment at Sperry-Univac in St. Paul.

Barbara Dollhopf became Mrs. Saunders in a recent April ceremony at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Boston. The Rev. Daniel Richert presided at the double ring rite at 4 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dollhopf of 819 Easley, Westland, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Saunders of McMillan, Mich. are parents of the young couple. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Irene Dollhopf of Romulus.

Escorted to the candle-lit altar by her father, the bride was gown in silk organza over bridal taffeta accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls. Matching lace bordered the silk illusion veil which drifted to fingertip length from a cap of lace and taffeta. Her large circular bouquet was comprised of talisman roses, white carnations, baby's breath and trailing ivy.

The bride's only jewelry was a garnet necklace which had been handmade in Germany for the wedding of her great-great-grandmother in 1848. Susan Morris of Romulus was her cousin's maid of honor in an A-line halter type dress in shades of peach and white topped with a fitted jacket trimmed in lace. She wore a soft brimmed hat in matching peach and carried a bouquet of talisman roses and white carnations.

Gowns in shades of orchid and white, styled identically to the honor maid's, were worn by the three bridesmaids, Arlene Freeman and Carol Dollhopf, sisters of the bridegroom and bride, respectively, and Marie Wisniewski, cousin of the bride. They, too, wore matching picture hats but their bouquets differed in that they were made of white carnations and white roses tipped in orchid.

Flowergirl was Kate Murto, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murto of Goshen Ind. She donned an A-line frock of apple green organza, wore a headpiece of white daisies and held a basket filled with white daisies and carnations.

At the buffet reception which followed in the church hall, the 135 guests were greeted by Mrs. Dollhopf in a long mint green gown. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Saunders chose a formal of pink floral print on pale blue.

The rehearsal party, held at the home of the bride's grandmother, Irene Dollhopf of Romulus, was co-hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

The new Mrs. Saunders graduated from John Glenn High School in 1973 and attended Michigan Technological University (MTU) at Houghton. Her husband, a 1973 alumnus of MTU, holds a degree in electrical engineering.

Sea World adds nautical playland for children

Cap'n Kids World, a new children's recreational playland, will weigh anchor at Sea World of Ohio this season.

Presently under construction at the marine-life park, it is slated for completion before opening day May 24.

The new 2-acre addition is located adjacent to the lakefront water ski stadium. The $800,000 playland will accommodate up to 5,000 children a day between the ages of 3 to 12.

Cap'n Kids World incorporates imaginative and dynamic activities ever seen, including 17 fun-filled adventures that await the little mates on their journey through Cap'n Kids nautical world, a spokesman said.

The "dream world," the only one in the United States, has been designed with children in mind. It is their special place where they can safely jump, climb, slide, swing and have a great time, he added.

Entering the domain, they will find themselves in the midst of some "mean-looking pirates," but these buccaneers easily are swept aside as the children speed through their grasp. Called "Punch-a-Bunch of Pirates," these scallaws are seven feet high, suspended foam-filled punching bags. This will be only one of many challenges for Cap'n Kids little mates.

The Bounding Main also will test out the little salts' seaworthiness. This element is a giant air mattress that shimmers like a sun-reflecting sea. And no little mate's journey through Cap'n Kids World would be complete without challenging the King of the Wave. This slippery-sided, pint-sized sea will sharpen the little sailors' skills as they scamper skyward. Avoiding slipping and sliding on this vinyl-sided wave will be quite a feat. Cap'n Kids World also will include a floating pontoon bridge which acts as the entrance to the Cap'n's nautical land; a 150-foot "walk the plank" to a towering crow's nest; a rope suspension bridge; the jellyfish walk which is a foam-filled mattress; cannon slide; turtle roll; the slippery eel; Blackbeard's cave; bouncing buoys; sea horse swing; Davey Jones' locker and more.

The highly-durable attraction is designed to withstand the energy of 500,000 children during Sea World of Ohio's 107-day season.

Cap'n Kids World is a do-your-own thing setting where children are limited only by the extent of their own imaginations, the spokesman said.

Sea World of Ohio is located on Geauga Lake of Route 43 in Aurora, Ohio.

OLD WORLD — The old world elegance of horse drawn carriages is enjoyed by guests of the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, but under the old worldliness is a modern hotel complex. Nearly $500,000 has been spent in 1975 on improvements to the hotel.

Eastern Market thinks 'flowers'

The ninth annual Flower Day at the Eastern Farmer's Market will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. More than 100 growers of flowering annuals and vegetable plants will display their products.

Admission is free. The annual exhibit is the only one of its kind in the United States. It offers home gardeners an opportunity to see the different varieties available, seek advice from professionals and buy the plants they desire.

Horticulturalists from the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service will be on hand to answer questions on both flower and vegetable gardening.

The Eastern Market is located at 2934 Russell, just east of I-75 and south of I-94. Plenty of free parking is available.

The event is cosponsored by the City of Detroit Bureau of Markets, the Metropolitan Detroit Flower Growers Association and the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service.

Giblin heads park

A veteran 30-year administrator with the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority has been appointed park superintendent at the new Oakwoods Metropark, five miles west of Flat Rock, which opens later this month.

He is George H. Giblin, who joined the park agency on August 1, 1946, and was first assigned to Kensington Metropark. He retains the post of park superintendent at Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville which he has held since the early 1950s, and also is in charge of Willow Metropark, six miles northwest of Flat Rock, which opened in 1970.

Get rid of pests before planting

Because you can't see them, you may not be concerned about insects living in your garden soil until they damage your crops. By that time, it's too late to control them effectively.

"Soil insects must be controlled before you put the garden in," says Don

Home & Garden

Cress, extension entomologist at Michigan State University (MSU).

"If you had trouble with cutworms, maggots, grubs or wireworms last year, or if you've just this year converted a piece of lawn to garden, treat your garden plot before you put crops out this season."

Cutworms are hairless caterpillars that live in the soil. They usually are fat and somewhat spongy-looking, dark colored with lighter markings. The adult form of the pest is a small, brown to gray moth with light and dark markings. They're often seen fluttering around lights at night in mid-summer.

"The cutworm damages a plant by cutting it off right around the level of the soil surface," Cress said. "Sevin or malathion applied to the soil surface is used to control it."

Maggots are the larvae of flies. Various species attack onions, corn, beans, cabbage, radishes, rutabagas and many other crops. Buy corn and bean seeds and other large seed already treated with fungicide - insecticide, Cress advised.

Protect onions against maggots by treating the soil when you seed out the plants or sow seed. Use Diazinon, two teaspoons of 50 percent powder per gallon of water for every 25 feet of row.

To control cabbage maggots, dip the roots of cabbage transplants into a chlordane solution made of two tablespoons of 40 percent powder per gallon of water.

Wireworms are the immature stage of click beetles. They are dark brown and very tough-skinned. Wireworms are great pests of carrots and other root crops. Control them with Diazinon or chlordane applied to the soil surface and worked into the top 2 to 3 inches of soil before applied to the soil surface and worked into the top 2 to 3 inches of soil before planting the vegetables.

White grubs are the larvae of the common June beetle. These fat, white C-shaped pests usually feed on grass roots, so they're likely to be found in a new garden where grass recently was growing. They will damage root crops, however, and must be controlled with chlordane. Treat the soil as for wireworms.

"Grubs also are the villains at the heart of a mole problem," Cress noted. "Moles tunnel through your lawn or garden looking for grubs to eat. Get rid of the grubs and the moles usually will do their hunting elsewhere."

Cress urges, above all else to read and follow all label directions when using any pesticide.

How to double your money in a retirement nestegg with deferred-tax dollars.

If you are one of the 40 million people who have no company-sponsored pension program, now is the time to look into an Individual Retirement Account at NBD.

In 1974, new Federal legislation was passed to help millions of Americans provide for their retirement years.

National Bank of Detroit moved quickly to bring you the advantages of this new legislation through an approved Individual Retirement Account.

Here's how an IRA can help you multiply a surprisingly modest investment into a substantial retirement nestegg.

Double tax savings.

With an IRA, both the money you put into the account, and the interest your money earns while on deposit, are tax exempt until the time of withdrawal.

This means you can take a tax deduction on the amount deposited into your IRA each year, allow the earnings to accumulate tax-free, then withdraw your money when you retire

End of Year	Your tax deferred IRA contribution $1500/yr.	You will have if invested at:
		6%	7-1/2%
5	7,500	$ 8,478.69	$ 8,749.78
10	15,000	19,898.26	21,436.51
15	22,500	35,278.75	39,831.61
20	30,000	55,994.06	66,503.55
25	37,500	83,894.57	105,176.47
30	45,000	121,472.51	161,250.20 and are more likely to be in a lower tax bracket.

Double your money in 20 years.

The new legislation allows you to deposit as much as 15% of your annual earned income—up to a maximum of $1500—into an IRA.

And while you may choose any NBD savings plan as your IRA, the chart shows how our new Investment Savings Certificates can multiply your IRA nestegg.

By taking advantage of our NBD Investment Savings Certificates that now pay 7-1/2% over six years on amounts of $1000 or more, for example, you would more than double your money in 20 years.

And all the while your money would be protected by both the federal government, and by the substantial capital of Michigan's biggest bank. There is, however, a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal of Investment Savings Certificates.

Now's the time.

Anyone who is not now covered by an employer-sponsored retirement plan may open an Individual Retirement Account at NBD.

And because our interest rates have never been higher, now is the time to begin putting tax-deferred dollars to work for you in an IRA.

For more information, pick up our new free IRA booklet at any NBD office. Or ask the people there to help you personally.

Making banking better for you.

Pole earns historical mark

In 1916, entertainment in the community of Romulus revolved around the home with an occasional visit to the lodge meeting for the men. To counteract those evenings when left alone, the women of the city formed what now is the city's oldest philanthropic organization—the Sunshine Club.

And the group has brought sunshine to the city again, this time in the form of the dedication of the club's flagpole at the corner of Goddard and Shook roads as a historical monument.

In a ceremony held at the intersection May 6, a flag was run up the pole, as part of the observance. According to Jack Trumble of Romulus Bicentennial Commission, the flag was presented by Congressman William D. Ford, and reportedly had flown over the U.S. Capitol Building prior to being raised in Romulus.

Trumble, who chairs the commission, said future plans call for moving the flagpole from its present site to the City Civic Center at Goddard and Wayne roads.

The banking facility near the flagpole had been taking care of the structure and will see that a light shines off the pole throughout the dark hours so that the flag may fly 24-hours per day.

The flagpole originally was erected by the Sunshine Club as a memorial monument after World War I to honor "our boys who served in the World War—1914-1918."

Their philanthropic works include purchasing the first stage curtain for the stage at Romulus High School shortly after it was built in 1929, furniture for the girl's rest room, tables, chairs, dishes and equipment for the various school playgrounds.

Monetary contributions from the Sunshine Club have been made to the Red Cross, March of Dimes and the Romulus Service Mothers Club.

The helping hands of the members have done sewing for the Red Cross and have made pads for the Cancer Society.

But probably the earliest of the good works was during the First World War when members of the club met troop trains in Romulus, offering its military passengers gifts of candy, cookies and cigars.

Manufacturers Bank assumed custodial care of the flagpole, which the club had maintained until about 1969, in August of that year in brief ceremonies reactivating its use as "a community flagpole."

State will seek bids on Romulus roadwork

Bids will be taken May 14th in Lansing on proposed interchange improvements on I-94 in Romulus.

The construction project involves the addition of two ramps in the southwest portion of the Haggerty Road Interchange with I-94 west of Romulus. The project includes work on the south frontage road, grading, drainage structures and watermain relocation and paving. All of this work is being done in conjunction with the widening of I-94 currently underway.

Work on the interchange is expected to cost $670,000 and is slated for completion in November 1975.

Bids will be taken on the same day for 17 other highway construction projects throughout the state and will be opened at 10:30 a.m. in the Prudden Auditorium in the Lansing Civic Center.

Training class to start

The Number, the area's phone crisis intervention service, is beginning a training course for new volunteers.

Scheduled to begin next Wednesday the course will run for 10 weeks offering students both in class and on-the-job training in counseling skills, drug information and crisis treatment, suicidology and venereal disease information among other topics.

Each volunteer taking the training will be asked to accept one 4-hour shift per week on the service's phone crisis line and to attend a once-a-month in-service training session.

According to Kathleen Calvillo, executive director of The Number, the service is experiencing an increasing need for volunteers in the area of counseling as well as fund raising, publicity and secretarial skills. "As new programs start, new volunteers are needed to help," she said.

Lottery 'pot' keeps growing

With less than a week remaining before the draw in the Michigan Lottery's Triple Play game has surpassed $300,000. A portion of each week's sales revenues go into the jackpot, with more money credited to the jackpot when sales increase. The jackpot has grown by about $100,000 each week for the sales.

All Triple Play tickets for the weekly drawing dates of April 10, 17, 24 and May 1, 8, 15, have a chance to win in the jackpot drawing Monday. A special tear-off stub on the right side of Triple Play tickets qualifies the ticket buyer for the Jackpot Drawing.

One 6-digit jackpot number will be drawn on Monday. The bureau estimates that eight to 10 people will match that number exactly and qualify for the June 5 jackpot finals.

Holders of qualifying tickets must go to a Lottery Claim Center by June 2 to gain entry to the finals. Those who fail to claim their ticket by the June 2 deadline win only the $20,000 minimum prize.

Assuming nine people qualify for the June 5 finals, one will win half of the jackpot and the other eight will split the remaining half equally. For instance, with nine qualifiers and a $500,000 jackpot, the prizes would be first prize $250,000 in cash and the eight consolation prizes $31,500 each in cash.

The jackpot may exceed the $500,000 mark if sales continue at current levels. The final sum will be announced in advance of the Monday's drawing.

Project to end at rite

The Citizens District Council of the Romulus Wayne-Beverly Urban Renewal Area will celebrate the completion of the project with a street and park naming ceremony at the end of the month.

The ceremonies will be held at 2 p.m. May 31 at the Sheraton Metro Inn in Romulus.

Tickets are available by writing Dorothy R. Phenix at 6031 Wayne Road, Romulus, 48174. Tentative plans call for naming the park in the urban renewal project after the area's only Vietnam War casualty, Eugenio Fernandez, and to name five of the streets after persons who had contributed to the Beverly-Wayne area community.

Residents learn of Bicentennial

Belleville residents can learn more about the city's plans for celebrating the nation's 200th anniversary of independence by visiting a special booth at the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce Spring Trade Fair.

The Belleville City Council has approved an appropriation of $60 to rent space at the fair, to be located on the Wayne County 4-H Fairgrounds on Quirk Road, and will run Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

FIRST VISITORS — These fourth grade students from Hannan Road Elementary School of New Boston were the first group to take a guided hike along the nature trails at the new nature interpretive area at Oakwood's Metropark, located five miles northwest of Flat Rock. Principal William Miller (at left), who along with the class of Ruth Woody (with

Oakwood park joins HCMA list

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) has dedicated "to the citizens of southeastern Michigan" a new 350-acre nature interpretive area — including a large, nature center building — at Oakwoods Metropark 5 miles northwest of Flat Rock.

The facility was described as "one of the finest in Michigan" by William E. Kreger, HCMA chairman. The authority has nine other metroparks throughout the counties of Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland and Washtenaw.

Kreger, who represents Wayne County, presided at ribbon-cutting ceremonies, held yesterday. Assisting with the dedication were HCMA Commissioners Jesse A. Rutherford (Washtenaw) and Thomas S. Welsh (Macomb), and governor appointees Eugene J. Ellison and Kurt R. Keydel, who represent the district-at-large.

The nature interpretive area and the nature center building which together cover 1,711 acres, will be open to the general public at special preview hours on from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow and Sunday May 17-18. The nature interpretive area and park will begin daily operations on May 24. For details call 782-1255.

Thus far the HCMA has spent some $2 million on the Oakwoods Metropark project, including the cost of land, planning, engineering, architectural and landscape design and construction of the site as it now exists.

The nature center was completed through a grant of $335,000 from the State Recreational Bond Funds, approved by the voters in 1968 and administered by the Department of Natural Resources.

Visitors can enter the park from Willow Road, about one mile south of the intersection of Huron River Drive, and travel a winding, 3-mile stretch of road past picnic and shore fishing areas to reach the interpretive area at the eastern end of the park. Most of the park has yet to be developed.

Lucas eyes gun control

Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas has called for tough, new legislation to help law enforcement agencies in Western Wayne County control the latest wrinkle being used by local gunmen—a concealed, legal-length, sawed-off shotgun.

"The present law regulates carrying of hand guns, but is blind to the use of this weapon," Lucas said.

In some instances the shotgun is held in place under the gunman's arm with a sling made from a nylon stocking. To the casual observer, the only indication that he has a gun is a slight bulge in his coat.

"No one logically would be carrying such a weapon, unless he is motivated illegally," he added. "The law, specifies that a shotgun barrel must be at least 18 inches long and the overall length of the gun 30 inches. However, the barrel can be cutoff within a quarter-inch of the legal limit and still not be considered a concealed weapon."

A recent narcotics raid on a Detroit hotel first brought to light the latest method gunmen have been using to evade the law.

According to Lucas, the Metro Squad had completed the raid, confiscated some heroin and were leaving the lobby with three suspects when one of the officers saw a fourth person entering with a bulge under his coat. The officer placed the man under arrest when the arm-slung shotgun was discovered. The man reportedly told the arresting deputy later that "if he had known they were police, he would have come in shooting."

"Merchants and police must be made aware of what they are facing and be even more vigilant," Lucas pointed out. "A good tip must be to suspect individuals who approach them in the summertime wearing a top coat."

Juniors sponsor concert

The Junior Class of Romulus Senior High School will be sponsoring a rock concert at 8 p.m. Friday in the school auditorium.

The band Van Coot will perform. Tickets are $2 on a pre-sale basis and $2.50 at the door.

According to junior class representatives, Van Coot helped draw more than 500 persons to the last rock concert. The students are hoping that more attend this time.

HAROLD REDISKE, HAROLD REDISKE, JR. - DIRECTORS

We have an abundance of federal, state and municipal laws with unimaginable numbers of litigants and lawyers seeking restrictions or permissions in almost every phase of present day living...Naturally, no society of people would be safe or able to live in reasonable harmony without a system of law - but - we wonder...

We wonder whether the laws of man will ever be put in proper perspective. We wonder why people think man-made laws can ever control, or even partially control man's thinking, his behavior and conduct. We wonder why people think the CHANGEABLE laws of man can ever be as meaningful or as effective as the UNCHANGEABLE laws of God. We wonder if man will ever realize that when he increases his desire to adhere and live by the UNCHANGEABLE laws, he will minimize his need for man-made changeable laws. Yes, we wonder...and wonder how many other people wonder too...

Huron High selects senior class leaders

Two young women have been named valedictorian and salutatorian of the 1975 graduating class of Huron High School.

Kay Mittlestat will act as valedictorian while Darlene Wheeler will fill the salutatorian spot.

Miss Mittlestat, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mittlestat of 23886 Merriman Road, New Boston.

She has maintained a 3.91 grade point average during her four years at Huron, and currently is president of the Bachelors Club, co-president of FOTS (Friends of the School), vice-president of National Honor Society and is active in the Student Council and Outdoor Challenge Clubs. She has participated in girls athletics throughout high school.

She plans to attend Michigan State University this fall, but has not decided on any particular major.

Miss Wheeler has achieved a grade point average of 3.897. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wheeler of 22685 Airport Drive, New Boston.

She has attended Huron schools throughout her entire school life. During her high school years she has been active in National Honor Society, Bachelors Club, Spanish Club, FOTS and choir. As a drama student, she has participated in a number of public performances. In the fall Miss Wheeler plans to attend Grand Rapids Baptist College where she will enroll in the music therapy curriculum.

To halt funds

Council stadium fight fruitful

Work by the Romulus City Council to oppose the spending of state funds for a stadium in Pontiac may be fruitful.

The Michigan Senate has voted 23-7 to support a bill proposed by State Senator John Hertel (D-Detroit) to ban the spending of $800,000 per year as a state subsidy to finance bonds for Pontiac's private sports stadiums.

The Romulus City Council was one of the first cities from the Detroit Metropolitan area to adopt a resolution urging the passage of the bill to ban the spending of state race track revenues to finance bonds on private sports stadiums.

Hertel said Senate passage of the measure was "a victory of principle as well as economy" which will save the state as much as $22.4 million during the next 30 years.

"Public money should be used for public purposes, not private enrichment," Hertel said. "Yet some legislators were ready to donate millions of dollars for the use of a stadium whose number one tenant is a football club, owned by a millionaire.

"They were ready to take money what was needed for public purposes — like education, mental health and crime prevention — and put it in a sauna and other stadium facilities for use by a football team."

DARK DAY IN ROMULUS POLITICS

Are we going back to the days of dirty politics? Is it necessary for our present mayor, since the election is approaching, to fall back on what he knows best—MUD SLINGING?

We have, in the past few weeks, witnessed a new low in the politics of Romulus. We have seen a TRUE friend of the citizens of Romulus slandered by the inadequacy of the present incompetent administration. The whole question of Councilman Jim Stewart's "conspiracy" to evade building taxes is hogwash. The facts, if some would only investigate them, are clear cut. Councilman Stewart as of today has not received a bill from the City Assessor's Office. As a matter of fact, his property wasn't assessed until March of 1975 when he was accused of starting in 1971. Who is at fault? Procedure calls for the tax assessor to assess property tax once the certificate of occupancy is issued. In Jimmy's case the certificate of occupancy was issued in the fall of 1973. Why has the administration been so lax!!! The assessor's records show proof that Jimmy's case is not isolated. Many of our citizens have had garages built on their property and are also awaiting bills. ARE THEY TO BE INVESTIGATED, TOO?

MUST THEY PAY FOR BILLS NOT RECEIVED?

The issue here must be taken out of its political camouflage. The issue here is the fabrication of a story against a Councilman who has lived here nearly 20 years and has never been questioned on his integrity.

WHAT IS AT ISSUE HERE IS THE TACTICS OF OUR MAYOR AND HIS CITY ATTORNEY.

We, friends of Jimmy Stewart and citizens of Romulus, will NOT allow elected officials to use the sanctity of the council chambers as their own self effacing political rostrum!! We will not allow the mayor to go back to what he is known for—

SMEAR TACTICS!!

If there is to be an investigation, let us direct it to the source of our problems—

OUR MAYOR AND HIS ADMINISTRATION

Under his administration we have seen his colleague involved in giving away political favors such as the one known in the Detroit papers as the

"GENERAL MOTORS FIASCO."

We have seen the mayor endorse a proposal to destroy our ONLY golf course for construction purposes headed by one of HIS appointees who is also on the Planning Commission. Why has the mayor kept so silent about these conflicts of interest within his administration?

MUST WE GO ANY FURTHER? WELL, WE CAN AND WILL IF NEED BE!!

THANK GOODNESS THAT THE PEOPLE OF ROMULUS ARE SO POLITICALLY KNOWLEDGEABLE THAT WE WILL NOT STAND-BY WITHOUT FIGHTING! THANK GOODNESS THAT WE HAVE JIMMY STEWART, A MAN WHO WILL NOT BEND TO THE DIRTY ANTICS OF THE MAYOR!

THANK GOODNESS THAT SOME OF OUR ELECTED COUNCIL PEOPLE HAVE RECOGNIZED THE MIS-DIRECTION OF OUR CITY'S POLITICS. WITH THEM AND WITH THE REST OF OUR CITIZENS IS THE GUARANTEE OF THE FUTURE OF ROMULUS. REGARDLESS OF POLITICAL AFFILIATION NOW IS THE TIME FOR THE PEOPLE TO BE HEARD.

Fashions have crispness

Two women, Adele Simpson and her associate — daughter Joan Raines — believe in clean lines, crisp colors, quality of fabrics and construction and beauty in fashions.

Their collection combines it all to show a current high fashion feeling in subtle, sure and serene silhouettes.

Important among them are:

— Chemises in floaty chiffons and crepe with body conscious lines (sometimes column shaped) are timeless. The designers use a shallow square neckline for a charming effect.

— Two-piece dressing is seen as a shirt top with a straight easy skirt, a cardigan sweater over dirndl skirt, a smocked silk overblouse over looser pants.

— Slim dresses with companion jackets or coats look chic in patterns, solids and print-plain combinations. Especially elegant are a silk jersey wrap cape over a tank dress and a seafoam green mohair coat over a shadow striped dress.

For evening, sensuous looks include full-over-full evening pajamas of crepe, a 2-piece long crepe dress with ostrich trimmed tuxedo front and sheer chiffon bodices over slip tops that float and drift over the body. Many of the feminine party dresses are detailed with tucked shoulders, styled with molded tops or dramatically sashed. Coralite, seafoam green, lacquer red, French blue, rose and "fatigue" green appear in her color spectrum. Floral and geometric motifs. Renaissance-inspired needlework prints and "people" print figures appear in rich array on a select group of Adele Simpson atelier creations.

THE BIG-SHOT, BIG-SHIRT — Big shapes are fun to sew and comfy to wear for spring '75. Light, fluttery sleeved top and coordinated pants also can be stitched up easily. For a handy homesewing aid in the construction of the outfit, try zipper guide tape for professional-looking zipper placement.

EASY RIDER — Bicycling's growing popularity, both as a sport and an energy saver, has created a whole new category of sportswear specifically designed for the cyclist. Koret of California has come up with a bike skirt of Fortrel polyester that wraps around attached shorts and ties with a matching sash. For youngsters the elasticized peplum blouse has natural sleeves and collar, and the pull-on pants are trimmed with button-decorated pocket flaps. The little 2-piece midriff outfit features plaid boxer shorts and a front-pocket shoulder-strap top in natural piped in plaid.

Spring clothes: A natural look

This spring, more women will go back on the nature trail — not only for recreation, but for new fashion looks, too.

The natural, down-to-earth styles and colors show up especially in new casual clothes and shoes to wear while hiking, gardening and picnicking.

Great American classics that dominate the spring '75 scene include jeans and walking shoes.

Denim jeans have been dressed up with straight-leg styles, matching vests and battle-jackets. Denim skirts, too, in various lengths, offer sporty alternatives to pants.

To accessorize the new jeans look, the casual walker goes rugged and natural this spring. In one of the freshest versions, footwear designers at School adapt moccasin details, with heavy cord seaming, in a tie-walking shoe. Fashioned of soft leather, on a bouncy crepe wedge, the design also ties up comfort and wearability.

These and other casual styles come in suitably earthy tones of gunstock brown, tan and honey.

Youth clothes change

A giant step for the pint-size set is the order for spring '75 as children's fashions grow up to adult styling in clothes and shoes. Top to toe, watch for "miniature versions" of looks that accent style, comfort, and durability.

In boys' fashions the leisure suit is big news — short Eisenhower jackets in denim or other easy-care materials topping coordinate jeans or slacks in uncuffed styles that save on fabric.

Underfoot, active boys need shoes made from natural quality materials and fabrics to protect those frisky feet through spring days of puddle-jumping and tree-climbing. In fact, advise experts at the Sole Leather Council, parents should look for shoes styled and soled in rugged, sturdy leather, the only natural fiber that lets feet, big and little, "breathe" because it's made of tiny fibers and pores that allow fresh air into the shoe, conduct heat and excess wetness out.

Little girls, too, will hop, skip and jump into the spring fashion season with an adult look of quality in hooded shirts and matching pants, or feminine ruffle-trim dresses in pastel dotted swiss or bold plaids in sun-bright shades.

Underscoring the soft, breezy spring looks, shoes dress up too in leather tie-style spectators in snappy red or navy with white; or ankle-strap Mary Jane styles in solid soft pastels. For the changing look of growing boys and girls, fashions for spring emphasize clean, uncluttered "grown-up" styles that won't look babyish in 3-months growing time. In footwear fashions, this quality and style is available and easily identifiable by the Sole Leather Mark found on the shanks of shoes bearing only genuine leather soles.

Whether walking to school or pounding down country miles on a Saturday in May, young feet on leather soles enjoy a special flexibility and puncture-resistance. Room to "go" and room to grow is what spring '75 shoe fashions for children are all about.

Coach Matthews turns losers to winners

In three years, Coach Mike Matthews has turned a perennial loser in track into a respected winner. Matthews, whose New Boston Huron High track team, has amassed a 7-0 over-all record, is in the thick of the conference title race and the energetic coach may take most of the credit for the accomplishment.

"But, it's the kids who did it," he said. "They have worked hard and long hours to get the program where it is now."

Huron disposed of Monroe Catholic Central 67-56 for its seventh straight win. The Chiefs picked up nine of the 15 first places.

Keith Frazier contributed two of the Huron nine when he crossed the finish line for the high hurdles in 16.9 and came across with a 22.1 showing for the low hurdles.

Huron also swept the final two relays. Frank Martin, Don Bennett, Frazier and Dave Bennett were Matthews' winning combination for the mile relay (3:36.4); while Dave Bracciano, Don Johnson, Steve Damyan and Fred Verner teamed for a 47.7 in winning the 440-yard relay.

Liebeler picks college

Three-time All-Area and 2-time Western Wayne diving champ, Arlo Liebeler, has signed a letter of intent to attend Kent State University.

Liebeler, a senior at Belleville High School, is among the best divers the area has produced.

"Arlo had been sought by Bolens Mulching Mower offers a new way to get rid of grass clippings...

Don't have any.

Instead of raking, bagging and hauling clippings, or watching them turn brown on the lawn, get a Bolens 22" Mulching Mower. When it cuts your grass, it also cuts and recuts the clippings into tiny particles that disappear down into your lawn. Out of sight. Where they become a mulch that feeds the lawn.

And since this mower doesn't throw out clippings, there's no discharge chute. So you mow with greater safety. And turn around trees and borders with both sides of the mower.

Other features include sure-footed front wheel drive, Grip 'n' Grip" squeeze bar drive control. And your choice of manual or electric start. Also available in 22" and 18" hand-propelled models. Bolens Mulching Mower™ A good yard ahead.

Belleville gal wins honor

Belleville resident Theresa Benedict has been named to the 1974 Circle of Excellence by Avon Products, Inc. She was selected by the cosmetics company for business leadership shown as a district manager in 1974.

Members of the Circle of Excellence will be honored by the company when they meet in Madrid, Spain this month. According to Patricia Neighbors, Avon's vice-president-district management operations, 213 women in the United States have been singled out for the honor, adding that, "in this International Women's Year, Avon's tribute to this special group has greater significance than ever before."

It is the second time Mrs. Benedict has been named to the circle, originated six years ago by the company to give recognition to district managers. As a field executive of Avon, Mrs. Benedict is responsible for appointing and giving guidance to local representatives who are independent sales agents.

Along with the spring season comes cleanup time and the Van Buren Township Department of Public Works is anxious to help residents in their efforts toward cleaning up.

Equipment set to clear brush

The Township now has the equipment to handle almost any kind of trash pickup during regular collection day, eliminating the need for special collection drives.

However, May 22 and 23 are being scheduled as special pickup days for loose brush and tree limbs upon request. If residents have a need for this special service, contact Van Buren Township Hall, by calling 699-2001, and arrangements will be made.

On executive level

Panax promotes four men in corporation

The president of Panax Corp., John P. McGoff, has named two of the firm's executives to new management positions leading to a change in leadership at one of the company's weekly newspapers and the promotion of two other employees.

Frank H. Shepherd has been named executive vice-president and Harry J. Buckel vice-president of administration of the Panax Corp.

Shepherd, 34, of Okemos, joined Panax in 1969 and has served in various positions, including general manager of Inco Graphics, a commercial printing division in Mason and, most recently, group vice-president of Panax.

Buckel, 31, of Sterling Heights, joined the East Lansing-based corporation in 1972 as director of public relations and marketing. He has held several positions, including group vice-president of the firm's southeast Michigan newspapers.

The two appointments have been approved by the Panax Board of Directors.

McGoff said the appointments of Shepherd and Buckel "reflect the outstanding job both men have done for Panax."

"Their experience at the corporate and local level has given them a thorough understanding of both Panax corporate operations and the problems faced on an individual basis by each newspaper and printing operation," he added.

As executive vice-president Shepherd will be responsible for all line operations of Panax with the group vice-presidents, vice-president of finance and vice-president of administration reporting to him.

Buckel, as vice-president of administration, will be responsible for all corporate staff functions, including marketing, public relations, personnel and circulation.

Martin N. Heim also has been named to group vice-president of Panax.

Heim, 43, who was general manager of Panax' Dearborn Press, will be responsible for the operation of the East Lansing-based company's newspapers in southeast Michigan.

Heim has held management positions with the Daily Record-Leader in Alma, the Daily Times-News in Mount Pleasant and the Macomb Daily in Mount Clemens, all of which are Panax newspapers.

Ernest L. Nagy has been named general manager of the Dearborn Press, replacing Heim.

The Panax Corp. publishes eight daily and 28 weekly newspapers in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Florida, including The Daily Eagle and its affiliated papers, The Romulus Roman, The Belleville Enterprise and The Canton Eagle.

Stoh hopes to mop up remainder of schedule

With the tough ones behind him, Romulus baseball Coach Dennis Stoh hopes to mop up the remainder of the schedule.

"We lost a couple of games last week to some very good-looking teams," Stoh said. "But I'm optimistic that we will be able to win the rest of our ball games."

Romulus entered the week sporting a 7-7 won-loss record after losing to Ypsilanti 8-3 and to Lincoln Park 5-3 in its last two starts.

Starter Bob Griffin was charged with the loss against Ypsilanti which exploded for five runs in the sixth to break open a 3-3 ball game.

Griffin, who pitched 5 and two-thirds innings, gave up all eight runs, eight hits, struck out two and walked three. He was relieved by Jerry Goodman.

Goodman sparked a second inning rally when he singled, but he was erased when Don McMann hit into a fielder's choice. Mickey Ruffolo singled, and Michael Morrison's sacrifice fly drove home McMann.

The Braves tied it up in the bottom of the inning; however, Romulus took the lead again in the third when George Butler's single drove home Mike Kelly who also had singled and was sacrificed to second by Jay Barton.

After Ypsilanti tied it up for the second time in the third, Romulus took the lead 3-2 in the fifth on a walk to Moore who moved to second when Kelly sacrificed and scored on a single by Barton.

Romulus played "give-away" earlier in the week at Lincoln Park as Stoh's Eagles dropped a 5-3 decision to Tom Nolan's Railsplitters.

Two defensive lapses by Romulus led to four unearned runs.

"These crucial mistakes made the difference," said the Romulus coach. "We play as well as anyone, but when you make mistakes against teams like Lincoln Park and Annapolis, you're going to pay for them."

The loss was Romulus' third in a row and dipped its record to 7-6 on the season.

Rick Britz also suffered his second personal loss of lead in the first inning when it scored twice, but the Eagles tied it up in the top of the fourth on a single by Kelley, a walk to Moore and a 2-run double by Ruffolo.

The Parkers cut the knot for good in the bottom of the fourth; then picked up a couple of insurance runs in the next frame to clinch the nonleague victory.

Romulus collected its final run of the game in the sixth when Moore again walked, moved to second on a fielder's choice and scored on Butler's single.

the season against six wins, as the Romulus senior hurled a 7-hitter, struck out six and walked one. He was the "victim" of four unearned runs.

Dave Toigo chalked up the win, also giving up seven hits. Toigo nailed down four strikeouts and also walked four. Lincoln Park took the

To salvage season

Tigers need hits

If Belleville is going to salvage a winning baseball season, then the Tigers better start getting some wood on the ball.

With a couple of days rest, Coach Vi Kaminski's battery will travel to Bentley on Friday. Livonia is one of the teams that Belleville has beaten in Suburban 8 Conference play.

Walt Easley's 5-hit pitching performance provided Belleville with a 1-0 extra-inning victory over host Allen Park on Friday. It also was the Tigers' third league win in 10 starts.

Easley, who has a 2-1 league record, notched three strikeouts and walked four.

Belleville broke up the Easley-Jim Rena pitching duel in the eighth when the Tigers scored off of reliever and losing pitcher Mike Fournier.

In that inning, after one-away, Rich Ivan walked, then moved to second when Mike Stanley also walked. Paul Krystaniak's single drove in Ivan with the winning run.

Scott Jenks' single in the fourth and Russell Rooks' base in the fifth were the only other Tiger hits of the day.

A 7-run Edsel Ford outburst in the fourth was just too much for Belleville to handle as the Tigers bowed 9-7 to their Suburban 8 Conference rivals earlier in the week.

The Dearbornites built up a 9-1 lead before Belleville came back in the fifth with five runs. In that inning Jenks slammed a pinch hit single and scored when Krystaniak doubled. Dale Atkins also singled, driving home the second run.

Atkins moved to second when Ivan's grounder was booted. Kevin Barnes was safe on an error, scoring Atkins.

Barnes also managed to score on a misjudged fly. In the sixth, after two were out, Atkins got his third hit of the day — a line drive single. He stole second and was chased home on a double by Ivan who was thrown out when he tried to stretch the hit into a three bagger.

Edsel got on the scoreboard in the first inning, but Belleville countered with Ivan's single and Dave Dapsi's base hit which drove in his 11th run of the season.

Edsel went ahead for good in the third (2-1), then exploded for seven big runs in the fourth.

Losing pitcher Jeff Hoeman worked 4 and two-thirds innings and gave up all nine runs — four of which were earned. Paul Vas took over and threw 1 and one-third innings before the Tiger skipper called in Dan Scriptor.

HE'LL TRY HARDER — Belleville's Rodney Patterson stretches for that extra inch in the long jump and he soars 19 feet 7 1/2 inches to place second in a dual meet against Trenton Thursday. Patterson and the Tigers will be trying harder today when they host Plymouth Salem. — Enterprise-Roman photo.

After excellent performance, Belleville Hi loses close race

After an excellent performance at the 16th annual Western Wayne Track & Field Invitational, Belleville thincads suffered a letdown and lost a close race to Trenton.

Trenton came out of the cliffhanger Thursday with a 66-57 victory, hanging Coach Bruce Romant's Tigers with the third Suburban 8 Conference setback in five starts.

"Our boys did a fine job at the Western Wayne," Romant said. "And we were due for a letdown, but, when you come so close to winning... well, it's just disappointing."

Belleville needed to win the final two relays. However, a dropped baton in the mile shattered any hopes of winning. The Tigers went on to win the 440-relay with Ivan Kindall, Victor Busby, Joe Edward Abraham and Jim Humphreys.

Belleville had three individual first places: Al Russell captured the pole vault with a 12-foot effort, and Mike Blazer crossed the finish line first for the high hurdles (15.8); while Humphreys was clocked in the winning time for the 100-yard dash (10.7).

Belleville has Plymouth to contend with today in another Suburban 8 Conference meet. The Tigers are hosts for the 4 p.m. action.

John Glenn defends title in Belleville Relays

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Using its team depth to excellent advantage, Westland John Glenn held off usurper Taylor Center to successfully defend its Belleville Relays title. Glenn amassed 28½ points to nose out Taylor, which had 28. Livonia Churchill (22), Wayne Memorial (19½) and Belleville (18½) followed in the field of 16 teams. Glenn strung together one first place. The 2-mile relay team of Cliff Williamson, Bill Robinson, Dave Johnson and Kelly Frost posted a winning time of 8:13.1.

The Westlanders also were second in the 4-mile relay, low hurdles shuttle and had a tie for second in the high jump relay.

But the Westlanders' victory last week was close — too close, according to Glenn Coach Barry Basel.

"We beat them by a half-point margin," Basel said. "And, of course, that's not a decisive victory. However, we won and that's what counts."

"We received some outstanding performances from some of our sophomores," Basel said.

"And that helped us out a lot."

Basel singled out sophomore Ted Unold for special recognition. Unold anchored the second place 4-mile relay with an impressive 4:27. Senior Tom Jakubowski did an excellent job as anchorman on the shuttle hurdles and Fred Shoemaker came through in the 880 and the mile relays.

Three relays records were broken.

Cherry Hill's 4-mile relay team of Dave Brown, Dean Barrill, Dave Johnson and Mark Hagedorn churned an 18:30.5 in winning the event.

Cherry Hill's time in that event shattered the old mark of 18:39.6 set by Belleville in 1972.

Also, Livonia Churchill's pole vault relay team crushed the Belleville Relays record of 35 feet held by both Livonia Franklin and Bentley.

Churchill compiled 38 13 feet 9 inches also was an individual high for the event. He erased Wayne's Dave Cline's mark of 13 feet 6 inches.

Taylor Center ran a 58.0 in the low hurdles shuttle to remove Romulus' 1967 mark of 58.2.

In its 16th year, the Belleville Relays is one of the oldest of its kind in the area. Harry Hidenfelter, one of the originators of the meet, commended the participants as well as the fans.

"I feel the kids and the fans did a super job," he said. "Everything went extremely well. We even got cooperation from the weatherman and had an excellent evening."

"We didn't have to turn on the lights until the final two events."

Belleville, which has been the host for the annual prep track affair, finished fifth.

The top five finishers in each event were awarded ribbons while the winning coach and the team were presented trophies.

For tourney shot, HH has to beat Airport

Huron and Coach Ron Smith's ticket to the Class B District Baseball Tournament will have to be purchased at the expense of Airport.

The two Huron Conference rivals will meet tomorrow at Huron High to decide which of the two will survive the pre-district qualifying round.

Huron will carry a 1-5 league record into this week's action, while Airport has a 2-5 mark.

Smith's Chiefs, meanwhile, survived the first round of the Monroe Auto Equipment Invitational Tournament by crushing Mason 7-0.

Pitcher Lonnie Fater went the distance, struck out 13 and walked one in a 4-hit performance. The Chiefs took the lead in the third with a 2-run outburst, added four more in the fifth and scored in the last run in the sixth.

In the third Tim Doyle singled, went to second on a wild pitch and advanced to third on a groundout. Fater then was hit by a wild pitch and Steve Kwasniak walked, loading the bases.

Jeff Gill provided the key blow when he slammed a ground rule double, scoring two baserunners.

The Chiefs turned it into a rout when Steve Dilks led off the fifth with a grounder that was booted. Larry Kittle walked as did Fater and Kwasniak, loading the bases. Gill was hit by a wild pitch, forcing in one run.

Ken Kwasniak then bounced into what appeared an easy double play, but an errant throw to first allowed two more runs to score.

Kittle's triple, and a pinch-hit single by Mike Viger accounted for Huron's sixth inning run.

Flat Rock stunned Huron 3-0 Friday as Dave Steffens pitched a 1-hitter. He struck out nine and walked three while hitting one batter.

Steve Kwasniak ruined the Flat Rock pitcher's hopes for a no-hitter when he hammered a 6th-inning infield single.

Viger was the losing pitcher, as he gave up four hits, struck out three and walked one.

Huron wasted 15 hits as Jefferson won a slugfest 9-7. Ken Kwasniak was charged with the loss, in relief of Viger who went the first three innings and was called back in the final stages of the duel.

Trailing 3-0, the Chiefs scored four times in the third to take command 4-2; however, Jefferson came back with six runs in the fourth to stop the local contingent.

RHS wraps up dual season

Romulus' netters will wrap up the dual match phase of the season today hosting Flat Rock, a title contender in the Huron Conference.

The match is an excellent tuneup for Friday's regionals, according to Romulus Coach Tom Baldwin.

Romulus' record dropped to 4-6 on the season as the Eagles lost a 6-1 decision to Garden City East. The Eagles averted a shutout when its No. 1 singles' stick, Ray Ebersberger destroyed Craig Gilbert in sets of 6-1 and 6-0.

Earlier in the week Romulus carved out a 5-2 victory over Woodhaven and trimmed Trenton's reserve team, 4-3, to pad its record to 4-5 on the season.

Against the always-strong Trenton, Romulus' singles' lineup took three of the four points. Baldwin attributed the team victory to that effort.

Woodhaven also ran up against a readied singles' Romulus team which lost only one point. In the No. 4 singles, Romulus' Bill VanSoyoc lost 6-4 and 6-3 to Tim Gray.

The match also featured an all-No. 3 girls doubles matchup with Romulus' Alvenia Warren and Michelle Thomas losing to the Woodhaven pair of Diane Harrison and Nancy Diegel in three sets.

South victorious

Capturing 10 of 15 first places and raising its combined record to 9-1, the South Junior High thin-clads rolled over Vogel, 90-42.

Led by record-setter and double-winner Mike Koski, the South tracksters placed 1-2-3 in four events and took first in two relays.

Koski, a ninth grader, won the 100-yard dash in 11.2, and set a school record in the 220 yard dash at 24.4, finishing just ahead of teammate Brian Brinkerhoff at 25.4.

The 880-yard relay squad of Brian De Rouse, Brinkerhoff, Randy Elgas and Terry Turrentine took first with a record setting time of 1:41.5.

Earlier Brinkerhoff had taken first in the pole vault with an effort of 8 feet 6 inches. Placing 2-3 behind Brinkerhoff were Elgas and Craig Shoup, both at 8 feet.

The trio of Chris Koger, Doug Sheldon and Dexter Hubbard went 1-2-3 in the high jump, all with leaps of 5 feet 2 inches.

Later, Hubbard established the best time yet this season for any area junior high runner in the 100-yard low hurdles at 12.4.

Bob Cook and Russ Bearance finished behind at 13.0 and 13.7, respectively.

The last South sweep came in the 440-yard run with Randy Jimenez, De Rouse and Koger all going sub-minute with times of 58.5, 59.3 and 59.5, respectively.

State begins task of trimming welfare role

By GARY M. OWEN
22nd District

The Department of Social Services, with the encouragement of the Legislature, has started a concentrated drive to get ineligible off the welfare rolls.

Figures released early in the year showed that 7.8 percent of the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) cases were ineligible, 27.9 percent were being overpaid, and 8.2 percent underpaid. This far exceeded federal guidelines which require that not more than 3 percent of the cases be ineligible and no more than 5 percent overpaid or underpaid.

As a result, federal Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) Department officials threatened to withhold some $30 million in welfare funds for Michigan.

Legislative leaders had to go to Washington last month to persuade the federal officials to delay the withholding of funds to give the state a chance to take steps to correct the situation.

As a member of the House Appropriations Committee, which passes on the welfare budget, I particularly have been concerned about waste and fraud in social services programs. With other members of the Legislature, I was determined to see that corrective action be taken.

One of the problems was that the Social Services Department lacked sufficient personnel to check fully welfare applications and review ongoing cases. Early in the year, the Legislature passed a resolution authorizing the department to hire as many as 700 new employees statewide in order to more thoroughly investigate cases, cut down on overpayments and eliminate ineligible. The cost of the additional workers will be far outweighed in savings of welfare dollars.

Armed with this new manpower, the department this month started a reverification program that will review the entire ADC caseload in Michigan. The department will be striving not only to locate and weed out fraud and error, but also will be attempting to prevent the costly misuse and overuse of medical services, hospitals and nursing homes.

The program will not affect those who genuinely are poor and needy. They will continue to receive the public assistance they are entitled to.

The reverification program is scheduled to be completed by about June 1.

It will include, at a minimum, face-to-face office interviews or a home call, depending upon the characteristics of the case, and the certifying of eligibility for 6-month periods. This means that each recipient family will have to submit a new application at each redetermination. The object is to trim from the rolls those people who no longer are in need of assistance. The most immediate goal of the reverification program is to bring the percentage of ineligibility, overpayment and underpayment into line with federal standards, preventing the loss of federal assistance.

There is strong evidence that ineligibles on the welfare rolls commonly are due to misrepresentation of facts or outright fraud on the part of the applicant. This also is true in the case of overpayment, but overpayment also can be the result of error within the department. Underpayment is due both to error and, in some instances, to the fact that the client unknowingly does not apply for full benefits.

In its reverification, the department will be concentrating on cases having a high probability of client error, enabling the department to deal directly with that element of error rate which is the most costly in terms of misspent funds.

Further down on the priority list will be reviews of those cases with the greatest potential for agency error and those cases considered to have a low error probability.

If your doctor's name is on this list, you have until June to get sick.

In June you may find yourself without a doctor.

That's when many of these prominent physicians will lose their malpractice insurance... which has more than tripled in the last three years. Few doctors will practice medicine without it.

Very soon, adequate insurance won't be available for your doctor at all! That means we won't have doctors.

The present system for handling malpractice disputes—which has contributed substantially to the present situation—simply doesn't work anymore. It's costly. Court procedures take too long, are too expensive.

Changes are needed.

In Lansing, the Michigan Legislature has before it dozens of "malpractice" legislative bills designed to correct the problem. Immediate action on the bills supported by the medical profession will help avert a critical doctor shortage.

Some of the bills and what they would accomplish if passed:

- ☐ Permit contractual, binding arbitration in disagreements between physician and patient. (Arbitration is faster, cheaper and fairer to everyone.)
- ☐ Legal immunity for physicians sitting on disciplinary committees.
- ☐ Provide adequate funding to enable the Medical Practice Board to function more effectively. (Nobody wants to get rid of bad doctors more than good doctors!)

Physicians throughout Michigan are united in their effort to get the Legislature to act. Before it's too late.

In June, it will be too late for many doctors. That's why your help is needed. Now.

Remember, if your doctor's name isn't on this list, he'll probably be on the next one.

Let's not have a next one.

Send a coupon. Save a doctor. It just might save your life.

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY TO:

Michigan State Medical Society
P.O. Box 950
East Lansing, Michigan 48823

I'm deeply concerned about this insurance situation and don't want to lose my doctor. I urge and support passage now of the various bills before the Legislature that will clear up this critical health problem.

SECTION VIII. EFFECTIVE DATE.

8.00 The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared immediately necessary for the well-being of the City, and are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon final enactment and publication.

Committee working on Community Mart

A committee of interested citizens is working toward a June 7 deadline for the opening of Romulus' second summer-long Community Mart.

The committee, chaired by Romulus Mayor Pro Tem Beverly McAnally, is planning a "bigger and better than last year" event for this summer at the Romulus Community Center parking lot near Wayne and Goddard roads.

"We're expanding the mart to not only include the sales of produce, fruit and handmade goods, but also to include a flea market and several community events," Mrs. McAnally said. "The goal has been to make this a community event, and I think we're pointing that way in our work this year."

The mart will be kicked off this year with the annual Romulus

Kiwanis Club pancake breakfast between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. June 7.

Other possible events during the summer-long celebration include an ice cream social, a pet show, a kiddie carnival, performances by clowns, square dancing events, a costume day, craft demonstrations instructional programs in food preparation, a choral sing-a-long and possible performances by youth bands.

"The events will be centered around the Bicentennial theme of getting people together," Mrs. McAnally said. "We'll be appealing to citizens of all ages with the entertainment, demonstrations and sales. We want to unite the entire community."

Mrs. McAnally said she is hoping that community service groups would volunteer to put on their special events during the Community Mart, held Saturdays at the City Hall parking lot.

Those wishing to learn more about the Community Mart can obtain information by calling the Romulus City Hall at 941-0666, ext. 45 or 46.

Persons taking part in the mart committee this year include Marilyn Radford, Donna Lee Zavitz, Frederick A. Williams, Robert E. Lee, Marilyn Vaught, Genevieve Dugan, Roe Plocki and Geneva Clark.

In addition, Pearl Brown, Irvin Icenogle, Charlotte Trout, Therest Bryant, Brooker Edwards, Vince Parratta, Goldie Hoffman, Janet Darnell and Carole Bales.

Festival shows off talent

Students at Romulus, Merriman Elementary School will be showing their talents in three performances May 21 during the annual school

Spring Festival. Art students, physical education students and music students will be performing for others in the school and their parents at 10 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the school.

The spring festival is designed to offer students a creative outlet for their studies and will include art displays, tumbling demonstrations, singing and musical instrument performances during the day.

WRESTLING CHAMPS — Students at Ellwell Elementary School proved they could master any skill, including wrestling, an activity taught during the noon-hour break. To test their mastery, the youngsters tackled each other in competition. Dave Dubisky (from left) netted second place in the light weight division for sixth graders, with heavy weight champion Larry Wilson, light weight champion Scott Berger and John Kmetz and Al Hammond, second place in the division heavy weight, earning honors.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

SECTION I. Short Title

SECTION II. GENERAL

2.00 It shall be unlawful for any owner or agent thereof to keep or maintain any building or structure or part thereof in an unsafe and dangerous condition.

SECTION III. DANGEROUS BUILDING; DEFINED.

3.00 "Dangerous Building." For the purpose of this Article, any building or structure which has any or all of the defects or is any of the conditions hereinafter described shall be deemed a "Dangerous Building; and unsafe:

3.01 Whenever any door, aisle, passageway, stairway or other means of exit is not of sufficient width or size, or is not so arranged as to provide safe and adequate means of exit in case of fire or panic for all persons housed or assembled therein who would be required to or might use such door, aisle, passageway, stairway or other means of exit.

3.02 Whenever any portion thereof has been damaged by wind, flood, fire or by any other cause in such a manner that the structural strength or stability thereof is appreciably less than it was before such catastrophe and is less than the minimum requirements of the Building Code.

3.03 Whenever any portion or member or appurtenance thereof is likely to fall or to become detached or dislodged, or to collapse and thereby injure persons or damage property.

3.04 Whenever any portion thereof has settled to such an extent that walls or other structural portions have materially less resistance to winds than is required in the case of new construction.

3.05 Whenever the building or structure or any part thereof, because of dilapidation, deterioration, decay, faulty construction, or because of the removal or movement of some portion of the ground necessary for the purpose of supporting such building or portion thereof, or for other reason, is likely to partially or completely collapse, or some portion of the foundation or underpinning is likely to fall or give way.

The lien shall be enforced in the manner prescribed in the Charter of the City of Romulus, providing for the enforcement of special assessment liens or tax liens. SECTION VII. SEVERABILITY.

7.00 This Ordinance and every provision thereof shall be considered severable, and the invalidity of any Section, clause, provision, regulation or part or portion of any Section, clause, provision, or regulation of this Ordinance shall affect the validity of any portion of this Ordinance or any regulation adopted by reference.
